Note: The RCP (reinforced concrete pipe) must extend 1'-6"ft past the turnout both ways for a 3:1 graded and sodded slope. Adding concrete headwalls that are sloped and span the entire width of the ditch will reduce erosion and is optional. The pipe must be installed with proper gaskets at joints (lubed rubber or Ramnek) and wrapped in fabric 18" inches both ways from center of each joint. All lifting holes shall be plugged with cement. The pipe must be set to grade, pitched to drain in the proper direction at flowline and compacted/ haunched in limestone to the height of the pipe before driveway is constructed.
